

Rutherford B. Hayes Presidential Library & Museums 2018 Calendar of Events

APRIL 2018

Now – July 1, 2018 - Special exhibit “The Art of Photography” show and print sale, featuring photos by Gil Gonzalez. This special exhibit in the museum auditorium features photography by Gil Gonzalez, head of photographic resources at the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums. A professional photographer, Gonzalez has photographed numerous subjects and will share some of his favorite work in this exhibit. On May 1, nature photographs by Kristina Smith, marketing/communications manager at the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums will be added. The exhibit is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday with the exception of holiday hours and closings. Admission is free. This exhibit is on display in the museum auditorium and is open through July 1, 2018. Sponsored by The Fremont Company and Walmart - Fremont.

Now – Friday, May 25, 2018 - Special exhibit “Bhutanese-Nepali Neighbors: Photographs by Tariq Tarey.” The history of the more than 20,000 Bhutanese-Nepali people in Columbus is rapidly becoming the history of Ohio. This exhibit consists of 30 photographs of members of the Bhutanese-Nepali community, taken by Tariq Tarey. Each photograph is accompanied by a narrative written by Doug Rutledge that explains each individual’s history. The photographs emphasize the historic sequence of the Bhutanese-Nepali refugee experience; from living and working in Bhutan, to being forced to leave Bhutan, the experience of living in refugee camps in Nepal for 20 years or more, to resettlement in Columbus, finding jobs, buying homes and finally becoming American citizens. Bhutanese-Nepali Neighbors: Photographs by Tariq Tarey is on loan from of the Ohio History Connection. The exhibit is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday with the exception of holiday hours and closings. Admission is included with the price of a museum ticket. Members are admitted for free. The exhibit is open through May 25, 2018. Sponsored by William

Rutherford and Nancy Gaines Platt.

Members are admitted for free. The exhibit is open through May 25, 2018. Sponsored by William Rutherford and Nancy Gaines Platt.

Now – May 25, 2018 – Special exhibit “Jacob Riis: How the Other Half Lives.” The turn of the 20th century is best remembered as a two-sided coin. On one side, the close of the 1800s birthed modern America as we know it today. Industrialists like Andrew Carnegie and John Rockefeller built the first large corporations. Inventors like Thomas Edison and Alexander Graham Bell remade the American lifestyle through their innovation. On the other side, extreme poverty made life difficult for immigrants and the lower classes. Rather than call this period the nation’s “Golden Age,” Mark Twain sarcastically dubbed it “The Gilded Age,” noting the era’s unnecessary opulence for too few and excessive want for too many.

Jacob Riis was a Danish-born American photographer who decided to use his talent with a camera to peer behind the gilded veneer of high society to expose the harsh realities of living in New York City at the turn of the century. A social reformer and early muckraker in the tradition of Upton Sinclair and Ida Tarbell, Riis traveled into tenements, factories and sweatshops to document the day-to-day lives of the city’s many poor immigrants and laborers. This is a traveling exhibit created by the National Endowment for the Humanities’ touring program, NEH on the Road. It contains several of Riis’ life-size photographs and personal artifacts, as well as multimedia features and interactive stations. In the spirit of Jacob Riis’ passion to give a voice to the voiceless, the exhibit will include photographs and testimonials of those struggling locally in Sandusky County and Northwest Ohio in order to foster a conversation about hardship in the 21st century. Admission is included with the price of a regular museum ticket. Members are admitted for free. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday with the exception of holiday hours and closings. This exhibit will be on display through May 25, 2018. Additionally, the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums is leading a donation drive to help those in poverty in Sandusky County. Throughout 2018, HPLM will collect items for the homeless shelter in Fremont, called the Liberty Center, and the Sandusky County Department of Job and Family Services. Those who donate to this drive receive $1 off of admission. Items needed and being collected are:

- Personal care items: Full-size shampoo, conditioner, body wash, hand and body lotion (No sample or travel sizes, please.)
 - Paper products: Paper towels, paper napkins, paper plates, toilet paper
 - Baby items: Disposable diapers and baby wipes
- Sponsored by Decker Roofing & Gutter Solutions.

Tuesday, May 1, 2018 – Opening of the Lake Erie Nature photography portion of the special exhibit “The Art of Photography” show and print sale featuring photos by Gil Gonzalez and Kristina Smith. 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. As thousands of birders descend on the North Coast region for the Biggest Week in American Birding to catch a glimpse of rare migratory birds, this exhibit offers some photography of local birder and nature-lover Kristina Smith, who is also the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums communications/marketing manager. From warblers to frogs and turtles, Smith shares some of her favorite photos from her countless trips to Magee Marsh Wildlife Area, Ottawa National Wildlife Refuge and other birding and nature hot spots around Lake Erie.

This special exhibit also features photography by Gil Gonzalez, head of photographic resources at the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums. His portion of the exhibit opened Feb. 2. A professional photographer, Gonzalez has photographed numerous subjects and will share some of his favorite work in this exhibit. The exhibit is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday noon to 5 p.m. Sunday with the exception of holiday hours and closings. Admission is free. Thursday, May 17, 2018 - Building Doctor Seminar. 7 p.m. Free. Ohio History Connection’s Building Doctor program is coming to the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums. These clinics take place at locations around the state. Building doctors offer this free seminar on topics like peeling paint and failing plaster, wet basements, deteriorating masonry, windows, wood issues and bringing buildings built before 1955 up to date without sacrificing historic integrity. The seminar is open to all and will take place in the museum auditorium. Registration is required. To register for the seminar, visit <https://www.ohiohistory.org/preserve/state-historic-preservation-office/buildingdoctor/building-doctor-clinics>.

On May 18, the building doctors will visit ailing buildings within 5 miles of the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums to examine problems and suggest cures. Those interested in having the building doctors look at their home or building must register in advance and be selected. They also are required to attend the free seminar to have a building doctor site visit. To register for a building doctor site consultation, visit <https://www.ohiohistory.org/preserve/state-historic-preservation-office/buildingdoctor/building-doctor-clinics>. You will be notified if your site is selected for a consultation. The building doctors have visited a variety of buildings built before 1955, such as schools, churches, factories, stores, offices, farm buildings and homes. If selected for a site visit, you will be contacted in advance to schedule an appointment. Sponsored by the Birchard Historic Neighborhood Association and the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums.

Wednesday, July 18, 2018 – Frohman Summer

Series: Hands-on History, Roller Coaster Session. 10 a.m. to noon. Free. This program is a three-part series for kids ages 6 through 11. They will use historic photos from the Charles E. Frohman Collection at the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums to gain firsthand knowledge in history through science, technology, engineering and math initiatives. During the roller coaster session, students can learn about speed, strength, gravity and other principles of physics and engineering by building a roller coaster using a variety of materials. From 1892 to the present day, coasters have been a top attraction of Cedar Point amusement park for generations. Using the Frohman Collection photos, drawings and documents, students will analyze and build models of the 19th and 20th century coasters, comparing them to today's coasters. Parents are welcome to attend with their kids.

Registration is limited to 10 kids per session. Kids can register for one, two or all three of the sessions in this series. Sessions are June 20, July 18 and Aug. 15. Registration is required. Register by calling Nan Card or Julie Mayle at 419-332-2081, ext. 239, or email them at ncard@rbhayes.org or jmayle@rbhayes.org.

Friday, July 27, 2018 – Opening of the special exhibit "A Family of Service: The Hayeses in World War I." 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. In 1861, 38-year-old Rutherford B. Hayes enlisted in the Union Army during his country's most desperate hour. Writing to a friend of his military experience, he said: "I think I have never enjoyed any period of my life as much as the last three months. The risks, hardships, separation from family and friends are balanced by the notion that I am doing what every man, who possibly can, ought to do, leaving the agreeable side of things as clear profit." Hayes passed this belief in the value of service onto his children and grandchildren. When the United States again sorely needed men to serve during World War I, one of his sons and six of his grandsons answered the call. "A Family of Service: The Hayeses in World War I" will explore America's involvement in the "Great War" through the eyes of the Hayes family. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday with the exception of holiday hours and closings. The Hayes Presidential Library & Museums is closed on Mondays in January, February and March. Admission is included with the price of a regular museum ticket. Members are admitted for free. This exhibit is open through May 27, 2019. Sponsored by City of Fremont; Fraternal Order of Eagles, Fremont, OH Aerie 712; Exchange Club of Fremont; Fremont Lions Club; Kiwanis Club of Fremont; and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2947.

AUGUST 2018

Now – Oct. 21, 2018– Special exhibit “In Search of Healing: Medical Practices of the Gilded Age.”

Rutherford B. Hayes never knew his father. His father died of typhus three months before Rutherford was born. Rutherford’s wife, Lucy, lost her father in a cholera epidemic when she was only 2 years old. Together, the Hayeses lost three of their children to dysentery, scarlet fever and some unidentified illness. The ineffective and often dangerous medical practices of the time made disease the ever-present danger that loomed over every family. But in less than a century, researchers would understand that the spread of cholera could be prevented through water sanitation; the discovery of penicillin would slash the mortality rate of scarlet fever; and soldiers bound to fight in Europe during World War II would be vaccinated against typhus. “In Search of Healing: Medical Practices of the Gilded Age” will document the procedures and conventional medical wisdom that prevailed in the late 19th century. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday with the exception of holiday hours and closings. Admission is included with the price of a regular museum ticket. Members are admitted for free. This exhibit is open through Sunday, Oct. 21, 2018.

NOVEMBER 2018

Now – May 27, 2019 – Special exhibit “A Family of Service: The Hayeses in World War I.” In 1861, 38-year-old Rutherford B. Hayes enlisted in the Union Army during his country’s most desperate hour. Writing to a friend of his military experience, he said: “I think I have never enjoyed any period of my life as much as the last three months. The risks, hardships, separation from family and friends are balanced by the notion that I am doing what every man, who possibly can, ought to do, leaving the agreeable side of things as clear profit.” Hayes passed this belief in the value of service onto his children and grandchildren. When the United States again sorely needed men to serve during World War I, one of his sons and six of his grandsons answered the call. “A Family of Service: The Hayeses in World War I” will explore America’s involvement in the “Great War” through the eyes of the Hayes family. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday with the exception of holiday hours and closings. The Hayes Presidential Library & Museums is closed on Mondays in January, February and March. Admission is included with the price of a regular museum ticket. Members are admitted for free. This exhibit is open through May 27, 2019. Sponsored by City of Fremont; Fraternal Order of Eagles, Fremont, OH Aerie 712; Fremont

Lions Club; Kiwanis Club of Fremont; and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2947.

Sunday, Nov. 11, 2018 – Opening of the special exhibit “Experiencing Veterans and Artists Collaborations.” Noon to 5 p.m. This exhibit is an art project that brings together veterans and artists. EVAC curators interviewed veterans about their experiences, and artists made an edition of prints based on their interpretation of those stories. The prints are exhibited with excerpts from the transcribed interviews. In this exhibit, 12 to 15 pieces created from interviews with veterans through the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums Northwest Ohio Veterans Oral History Project will be featured in the museum rotunda. EVAC works to bridge the often-precarious gap between military and civilian life. Some of the pieces of art will eventually be displayed at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C. The exhibit will remain on display at the Hayes Presidential Library & Museums through Jan. 31, 2019. Admission is included with the price of a museum tickets.
